

Session Title:

Promoting
Kentucky Newington
as a literary Arts Hub

Presenter:

Carrigie Carter

NOTES:

- Introduction + contact sheet
- Chris Catherer reminded about "Discover arts" booklet - want to expand - was put together by Ky Arts Council
- need to engage students in creative writing
- Ben Askew - video game industry and its need for good writers - a culture around multi-disciplinary projects - organizing ~~getting~~ a meeting where writers meet tech +
- literary sub task force possibility
- develop economic argument ~~about~~ about the value of the literary arts to the local economy
- idea of bookmallky.com a Kentucky-based amazon - aggregate art products by kentuckians -
- getting the word out - Southern Arts Federation, which focuses on the literary arts - bundle Newington's package and get the word out thru them

phone call + press release

- Remurder: James Lane Allen house ac-quired by the Lexington School - what will happen to it?
- Bluegrass Writers' Workshop could happen there?
- creating a book arts studio -
- create a hall of fame for Kentucky writers
- ask the question: "What are we not yet doing?"
- Workshops attached to Hall of Fame idea would ~~bring~~ build sustainability into the project - use the Carnegie Center. Margine
- arts council will want to be part of this task force
- Developing a tourist site - funding may be more readily available
- Broadcaster or SquawkMe as way to provide an audio tour -